

Table of Contents

Foreword	V
Preface	VII
Table of Contents	IX
List of Tables	XIII
List of Figures	XVII
A Introduction	1
1. Overview and Problem Statement.....	1
2. Purpose and Research Question	3
3. Conceptual Framework and Methodology	6
B Theoretical Foundations of the Research	7
1. Behavioral Accounting as General Framework for this Research	7
2. The Concept of Managerial Information Use	9
2.1 Definition of Information	9
2.2 Definition of Information Use	10
2.3 Taxonomies of Information Use.....	13
3. The Concept of National Culture	27
3.1 Definition of National Culture.....	27
3.2 Definition of Values.....	29
3.3 Value Based Frameworks of National Culture.....	32
3.3.1 The Hofstede Project and the Chinese Culture Connection	33
3.3.2 The Schwartz Culture-Level Approach	39
3.3.3 The Trompenaars Value Survey	40
3.3.4 The GLOBE Research Project.....	41
3.3.5 Conclusion	41
4. The Influence of National Culture on Managerial Behavior	42
C Literature Review	51
1. Review: The Use of Information in Different Countries	52
1.1 Methodological Foundation of the Literature Review	52

1.2 Review of the Selected Surveys	53
2. Review: The Relationship between Information Use and Individual Performance.....	54
2.1 Methodological Foundation of the Literature Review	54
2.2 Development of the Stream of Research	55
2.3 Review of the Selected Primary Studies.....	57
2.4 Consolidation of the Findings.....	67
2.4.1 Decision-oriented Uses of Information.....	67
2.4.2 Learning-oriented Uses of Information	68
2.4.3 Political Uses of Information	68
2.4.4 Surveillance-oriented Uses of Information.....	69
2.4.5 Attention-directing Uses of Information.....	69
2.5 Analysis of the Differences in Performance Effects.....	72
2.6 Analysis of the Type of Relationship between Information Use and Performance	73
2.7 Conclusion and Implications for the Empirical Survey.....	75
3. Review: The Influence of National Culture on Information Systems.....	76
3.1 Methodological Foundation of the Literature Review	76
3.1.1 Definition of the Research Object.....	77
3.1.2 Selection of a Conceptual Framework for Organizing the Studies	79
3.1.3 Selection of Primary Studies.....	81
3.2 Review of the Selected Primary Studies.....	84
3.2.1 National Culture and the Development, Adoption and Implementation of Information Systems	86
3.2.2 National Culture and the Operations of Information Systems.....	87
3.2.3 National Culture and the Use of Information Systems	88
3.2.4 National Culture and the Characteristics of Information Systems	89
3.3 Descriptive Statistical Analysis of the Studies	90
3.3.1 Distribution of Selected Studies by Year.....	90
3.3.2 Distribution of Selected Studies by Analyzed Countries.....	91
3.3.3 Distribution of Selected Studies by Underlying Theory of Culture	92
3.4 Results of Primary Studies and Discussion	94
4. Summary	96

D	Methodological Foundations of the Research.....	97
1.	Structural Equation Modeling	97
2.	Level of Analysis.....	101
3.	Measurement and Operationalization of the Constructs	102
3.1	Fundamental Aspects of Measurement.....	102
3.2	Operationalization of National Culture	104
3.3	Operationalization of Information Use.....	106
3.3.1	The Interactive Use	106
3.3.2	The Diagnostic Use.....	108
3.3.3	The Instrumental Use	109
3.3.4	The Conceptual Use	110
3.3.5	The Symbolic Use	110
3.4	Operationalization of Managerial Performance.....	112
4.	Data Collection Procedure and Target Population.....	113
5.	Questionnaire Administration and Sample	115
6.	Goodness-of-Fit Measures	117
6.1	Reliability and Validity.....	117
6.2	Criteria of First-Generation Statistical Techniques	120
6.3	Criteria of Second-Generation Statistical Techniques.....	122
6.3.1	Tests of Significance.....	126
6.3.2	Descriptive Goodness-of-Fit Measures.....	127
7.	The Structural Equation Model.....	132
E	Results.....	137
1.	Assessment of the Measurement Model Fit.....	137
1.1	The Interactive Use.....	138
1.2	The Diagnostic Use.....	142
1.3	The Instrumental/Conceptual Use	145
1.4	The Symbolic Use.....	149
1.5	Assessing Discriminant Validity of the Information Use Constructs.....	153
1.6	National Culture.....	153
1.7	Individual Performance.....	155
2.	Descriptive Analysis of Information Use Practices	156

3. The Relationship between Information Use and Individual Performance	162
3.1 The Relationship between the Interactive and Diagnostic Uses of Information and Individual Performance.....	162
3.2 The Relationship between the Instrumental/conceptual and Symbolic Uses of Information and Individual Performance	166
3.3 Conclusion	168
4. The Moderating Effect of National Culture Analysis	170
4.1 Methodological Issues When Analyzing National Cultural Effects.....	170
4.2 Power Distance/Uncertainty Avoidance and the Interactive Use.....	174
4.3 Power Distance/Uncertainty Avoidance and the Diagnostic Use	176
4.4 Power Distance/Uncertainty Avoidance and the Instrumental and Conceptual Use	178
4.5 Power Distance/Uncertainty Avoidance and the Symbolic Use	179
5. Results Summary	181
F Summary and Conclusion	185
1. Summary of Key Findings	185
2. Limitations and Directions for Future Research	188
3. Practical Implications and Final Conclusion.....	190
Appendix.....	193
References.....	199